BIO

DJ STEPH HONEY is an emerging, versatile Toronto-based DJ who is willing to take her music into unconventional and necessary spaces world-wide. While being a music lover is one thing, being a connoisseur of sound, as the best DJs are, is another thing altogether. DJ Steph Honey is both. She brings with her a sense of style and taste that can be felt in every element of her professional life. She knows that the DJ's job goes beyond mixing and matching. It goes beyond playing what is most trendy, most hip, or most mainstream. Her job, and her utmost delight, is finding and presenting sounds that transport the listener into a world of pleasure they know they want, but which only she can deliver. Such is the alchemy of the DJ. Such is the talent of DJ Steph Honey, the one woman you need when you want music to sound like magic again.
